Introduction/ Preamble

Increasing workplace health-care perception has become a major issue in the world. Most of the health-related problems are faced because of the lack of health management instruments. The level of health care can be improved through workplace health well-being regulations. The aim of the present study is to formulate a conceptual model of physical checkup. Annual health checkup increases health-care awareness perception of states, organizations, employees, and their families and manages the annual health record of employees, organizations, and states. Health care and awareness perception of states, organizations, employees, and families improves with annual health checkup, and annual health checkup also prevents unhealthy acts and maintains annual health records.

The Health Check-up Camp Started at 10.30 a.m. with a formal Inauguration function on 22.04.2022 from 10.30 am to 4.30 pm. Dr. Nishore Chryslin N was the resource person accompanied with two nurses. The response from DBIT staff and students was very good. There were around 200 registrations. 145 members got the health check-up done.

Objectives

- To highlight the important value of occupational annual health check-up of employees when hiring employees on the job.
- To formulate the important factor of annual health check-up to develop health-care perception of employees and organizations to prevent unhealthy acts.
- To suggest and explain the result of validating the purposed conceptual framework of occupational employee annual health check-up.
- Workplace employees' annual health checkup plays a major role in developing health-care awareness perception.

The following Check Up was carried out

- 1) Height
- 2) Weight
- 3) Body Mass Index
- 4) Sugar
- 5) Blood Pressure and
- 6) General Consultancy

Report

Dr. Nishore Chryslin N. dedicated physician from BGS Global Gleneagles Hospital was the chief Guest. He Spoke to the youth of our college to maintain good health. Advised them to involve themselves in physical activity, do exercises and walk regularly. Not to get too much stressed in life. He told some stories of great doctors who worked tirelessly towards the betterment of people. He also gave the example of Lord Buddha decided at the age of 29 to leave the rich life of a prince behind and to go forth into homelessness as a wandering ascetic, in order to find a solution for the suffering in the world. At first he went to the great meditation teachers of his time, Alara Kalama and Uddaka Ramaputta, but although he quickly reached the highest meditation level taught by these teachers, and was asked by both to continue to guide their students as the highest teacher, he found only the temporary cessation of suffering and not the definitive end of birth, old age, illness and death he was looking for. So Siddhartha decided to continue his search and moved into the jungle to spend years in extreme ascetic practices.

Principal talk was mainly focussed on our students. He began his talk with the best possible opportunities to become confident, thoughtful young people who are prepared for any future challenges, in an exciting and increasingly global world. One of the important factors that affects the carrier of any Person is his health.

Health is the biggest wealth for a human being in his/her entire lifetime. If someone wants perfect health then, first of all, he/she has to improve the quality of the thoughts that generate and occur in their minds. When a person thinks positively then he/she improves his/her chemistry from within. For a healthy lifestyle, one should follow many rules and should also do regular exercises and must be physically active.

For instance, Americans spend more money on health than anyone else in the world, yet they live shorter, less healthy lives than citizens of other rich countries. The complex reason for this is the multiple factors that affect our health.

He gave an example of first women doctor Dr. Anandi Bai Joshi. Anandibai Gopalrao Joshi (31 March 1865 – 26 February 1887) was the first Indian female doctor of western medicine.

She was married at the age of nine to Gopalrao Joshi, a widower almost twenty years her senior.

At the age of fourteen, Anandibai gave birth to a boy, but the child lived only for a total of ten days due to lack of medical care. This proved to be a turning point in Anandi's life and inspired her to become a physician. After Gopalrao tried to enrol her in missionary schools and not working out, they moved to Calcutta. There she learned to read and speak Sanskrit and English.

Her husband encouraged her to study medicine. In 1880 he sent a letter to Royal Wilder, a well-known American missionary, stating his wife's interest in inquiring about a suitable post in the US for himself.

While the Joshi couple was in Calcutta, Anandibai's health was declining. She suffered from weakness, constant headaches, occasional fever, and sometimes breathlessness. Theodicia sent her medicines from America, without results. Though apprehensive, Gopalrao convinced her to set an example for other women by pursuing higher education.

Anandibai died of tuberculosis early the next year on 26 February 1887 before turning 22 in Pune. Years preceding her death, she was fatigued and felt constant weakness. Medicine was sent to her from America but there were no results so she kept studying medicine until death. Her death was mourned throughout India.

Despite practicing medicine for only two to three months, she rose to fame for her sheer determination and hard work, to become the first Indian female to study western medicine, becoming an inspiration to all others who came after her.

The principal said, this camp, the team from BGS Gleneagles Global Hospital is going to guide us for our well-being. I request the coordinators of all departments to be present near SH-2 till the end of the programme guiding the staff and students to get the health check – up according to the schedule prescribed schedule and make the event a grand success.

Preamble

A healthy body in a healthy mind. Our immune system is influenced greatly by the quality and quantity of food we eat. To prevent ourselves from COVID Dr. Sumana Y., BGS Gleneagles Global Hospitals, Bengaluru, told the importance of health and hygiene. The requirement of wearing a mask, sanitizing has become important part of our life in this pandemic situation. This webinar helped the staff and students to follow a better habit in their daily life.

Objectives and Learning outcomes

OBJECTIVES

1. To promote healthy life in every individual of our institute and people of other colleges.
2. To promote awareness about Infection in a scientific way.
3. To help individuals develop an understanding of the underlying scientific principles upon which prevention has to be taken.
4. To encourage an awareness about wearing mask, Sanitizing hands, maintaining cleanliness, maintain social distance etc

REPORT ON "COVID DO's AND DONT'S"

It was a wonderful session and was well explained by the speaker Dr. Sumana Y, BGS Gleneagles Global Hospital, organised by IIC, Department of R & D and Mathematics. COVID is a viral Infection which spreads from one person to another person. Most people who fall sick with COVID will experience mild to moderate symptoms and recover without special treatment. However, some will become seriously ill and require medical attention. She stressed upon the precautions to be taken during this COVID pandemic. Social distancing, mask and hand sanitization are the necessary self precautions to protect ourself from Pandemic. COVID protocols have to be strictly followed by all age groups. In Workplaces strict hygiene have to be followed.

Immunity plays an important factor to protect ourselves from COVID. Vaccination helps us produce antibodies which help us fight against COVID. If we are vaccinated chances of getting infected less. Pregnant women and breast feeding women with medication are also eligible to get vaccinated in consultation with a Physician.

All has to be strong in case if they are infected with COVID and visit a doctor if the symptoms persist for more than three days with a COVID test done. Do not follow COVID prescriptions which are circulated in social media, as COVID parameters vary from person to person. N-95 Mask or surgical mask is suggested to protect ourself, and avoid using cloth mask. If a person affected with COVID has difficulty in breathing, saturation for every six hours has to be checked with pulse oxy metre, and it should not be below 92, otherwise seek medical attention. Good Immunity comes with good lifestyle. Regular Exercise, coping up with stress is important for healthy mind. Stress relaxation activities like meditation, Exercise, Yoga to be carried to improve our Immunity.

Question and Answer session was carried by the speaker. There were questions on post COVID weakness and black fungus. Consumption of Luke warm water and steam Inhalation, Proper exposure to sunlight, regarding third wave were all part of this session. The session ended with vote of thanks.

Preamble

Immunity can be either natural or artificial, for developing immunity is explained in this webinar. This helped the staff and students to innate or acquired, adaptive and either active or passive. Our immune system is influenced greatly by the quality and quantity of the food we eat. From this webinar by Mrs. Karthigai Selvi, Chief Clinical Dietician, BGS Gleneagles Global Hospitals, Bengaluru, we get the importance of building immunity. The requirement follow a better food habit in their daily life.

Objectives and Learning outcomes

OBJECTIVES

1. To promote healthy life in every individual of our institute and people of other colleges.
2. To promote a proper diet plan in a scientific way to build up immunity.
3. To help individuals develop an understanding of the underlying scientific principles upon which current issues in nutrition are based.
4. To encourage an awareness of social, economic and cultural aspects of food choice.
5. To enable individuals to demonstrate and apply appropriate knowledge of concepts and principles when planning and preparing meals and when making food choices.

Diet and Nutrition to build Immunity webinar was needed in the present day crisis to fight against COVID-19.

This webinar was organised by IIC, Department of R & D and Mathematics, DBIT in association with BGS Gleneagles Hospital to bring knowledge about complete diet and Nutrition to be followed to boost immunity.

The speaker for the day was Mrs. Karthigai Selvi, Cheif Clinical Dietician, BGS Gleneagles Global Hospital. She started the session with the basic knowledge that one has to have regards to immunity like good nutrition, exercise, management of stress, proper weight, sleep, in managing blood pressure and blood glucose levels.

Diet and Nutrition to Build immunity for Staff and Students

Immunity can be either natural or artificial. Our immune system is greatly influenced by the quality and quantity of the food we consume. We come to know that a healthy balanced diet is the key for maintaining good health and immunity.

She gave us knowledge on what is a balanced diet and what should a balanced meal consist of. It must consist of carbohydrates, proteins, fats, vitamin A, E, C, Zinc, Magnesium, etc. Mainly water, it plays a very vital role in maintaining a healthy body.

She even gave us a detailed picture of protein rich foods in veg and non-veg, carbohydrates rich food. She explained about the need of fats (healthy) to human body on a daily basis and healthy fats like flaxseed oil, walnuts which are source of Omega 3 fatty acid are to be consumed in small portions.

Then vitamins and sources of each vitamin were briefed. She even helped us to find the healthy weight by BMI calculation and to lose weight one has to eat a balanced meal and drink 3 to 4 litres of water per day.

No single food is a super food by quoting this she insisted us to have all kinds of vegetables, fruits, etc., in proper quantity and proper method. She even said that our Indian culture food includes all kinds of antioxidants, in day to day food. We use garlic, ginger, turmeric which have antiviral properties are used.

She gave a wide range of options to keep ourselves hydrated a day long and we need avoid drinking sweetened, sugary and carbonated beverages in order to stay healthy. If a body weight is more or if a person is suffering from obesity, they should consult a dietician to lose weight in a healthy way. Followed by all these, we had a Question and Answer session where questions or doubts asked by the attendees or participants were clarified by the speaker.
